Nomination for a Business Innovation and Investment (Provisional) visa

If granted a Business Innovation and Investment (Provisional) visa, you are expected to establish an eligible business and/or maintain investment activity in the state/territory of nomination or as agreed with Austrade.

Nominations are recorded in SkillSelect and this form is not required. However, if you already hold a Business Innovation and Investment (Provisional) visa in the Business Innovation stream and are applying to extend your visa then you will need to obtain a nomination from a state or territory government agency or Austrade.

Part B of this form must be completed, signed and stamped by your state/territory agency or Austrade and then lodged with your completed application form with the Department of Home Affairs (the Department) within the validity date of your nomination.

Nomination for Business Innovation and Investment (Permanent) visa

Part B of this form must be completed, signed and stamped by your state/territory agency or Austrade and then lodged with your completed application form with the Department within the validity date of your nomination.

Note: If you have relocated your business from the state/territory that nominated your Business Innovation and Investment (Provisional) visa and are seeking nomination from an alternate state/territory government for your Business Innovation and Investment (Permanent) visa you are requested to formally seek release from your original nominator by completing Part C of this form.

Please check the validity date at Question 27, Part B of this form and if the validity date will expire prior to you lodging your application then your state/territory agency will require you to seek a new nomination from them.

This nomination will cover all members of the applicant's family unit included in this application. State or territory agencies and Austrade must notify the processing post or regional office if this nomination is withdrawn.
