

The Department of Home Affairs (the Department) acknowledges that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are the traditional custodians of the Australian land.

Life in Australia – Australian values

The Australian Government encourages people to gain an understanding of Australia, its people and their way of life, before applying for a visa to live in Australia.

This includes understanding that the English language, as the national language, is an important unifying element of Australian society. Australian society is also united through the following shared values:

- respect for the freedom and dignity of the individual;
- freedom of religion (including the freedom not to follow a particular religion), freedom of speech, and freedom of association;
- commitment to the rule of law, which means that all people are subject to the law and should obey it;
- parliamentary democracy whereby our laws are determined by parliaments elected by the people, those laws being paramount and overriding any other inconsistent religious or secular 'laws';
- equality of opportunity for all people, regardless of their gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, race, or national or ethnic origin;
- a 'fair go' for all that embraces:
 - mutual respect;
 - tolerance;
 - compassion for those in need; and
 - equality of opportunity for all.

The Life in Australia booklet provides more information on the values that Australians share and their way of life. This booklet is available in a wide range of languages and can be obtained from www.homeaffairs.gov.au

You are encouraged to read the Life in Australia booklet before completing this application form. If you have difficulty, or are unable to read the booklet, you may have the content of it explained to you, for example, by a friend or relative. This form contains a declaration, that you must sign, that confirms you understand and will undertake to conduct yourself in accordance with the values of Australian society (as explained in the booklet) and will obey the laws of Australia.

This declaration must also be signed by each person aged 18 years or over, who is included in this form.

Investor Retirement (subclass 405) visa

If you hold an Investor Retirement visa or it is the last visa you held, you may apply for another Investor Retirement visa if you:

- are sponsored by an authorised Australian state or territory government;
- have no dependent children or other dependent family members (other than a partner);
- are married or in a de facto relationship and your partner has no dependent children or other dependent family members;
- have a minimum net income stream (for example pension rights) that can be accessed for you, or you and your partner, of:
 - AUD50,000 annually if you intend to live in a regional/low growth area of Australia; or
 - AUD65,000 annually if you do not intend to live in a regional/low growth area of Australia;
- are able to make a minimum designated investment in the state or territory in which you have been sponsored of:
 - AUD250,000 in your name, or your and your partner's names, if you intend to live in a regional/low growth area;
 - AUD500,000 in your name, or your and your partner's names, if you do not intend to live in a regional/low growth area;
- have evidence that you, and your partner (if applicable), have held for the duration of your previous stay in Australia and continue to hold adequate health insurance;
- have no intention of working full time in Australia (you, and your partner (if applicable), will only be allowed to work up to 40 hours per fortnight while in Australia); and
- you, and your partner (if applicable), are of good health and character.

What is a designated investment?

Designated investments are offered by state and territory treasury corporations as primary-issue government securities with a maturity of no less than 4 years from the date of purchase.

These government securities are non-transferable and non-redeemable (that is, the security cannot be sold to another investor or sold back to the issuing authority before maturity).

Repayment of the principal on maturity is guaranteed by the state or territory government.

The treasury corporation in the state or territory where you are being sponsored will provide information as to where and how you are able to make a designated investment. They will provide you with current information on the terms and conditions, detailed instructions on how to lodge a designated investment and an investment application in their state or territory.

How to apply (subclass 405)

Step 1

You will need to contact a state or territory government agency that sponsors investor retirees.

You will need to complete Part A of form 1249 State/territory sponsorship: Investor Retirement visa and provide it to your proposed sponsor. If they agree to sponsor you they will complete Part B the form and return it to you.

You should also contact the treasury corporation, in the state or territory that will be sponsoring you. They will forward current information on the terms and conditions and an investment application form. They will also send detailed instructions on how to lodge the designated investment. At the initial inquiry stage, the treasury corporation can only indicate the likely rate of return on a proposed investment. The actual rate of return on your investment will be set when you deposit your funds in the designated investment. Interest rates change regularly and may differ between state and territory treasury corporations.

Step 2

Complete this visa application. Please use a black or blue pen, and write neatly in English using BLOCK LETTERS.

If you need more space to answer questions or wish to provide additional relevant information, attach a signed and dated sheet giving the required details.

Any alterations made before you lodge the form must be initialled and dated.

You will need to supply 2 recent passport-sized photographs of each person included in your application.

Step 3

Lodge this visa application along with the sponsorship (form 1249 State/territory sponsorship: Investor Retirement visa) and pay the application charge (for a list of application charges, refer to the Department's website <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/visa-pricing-estimator>). With your application you should submit all appropriate documentation, including evidence of your assets, your access to an income stream, and health insurance.

You must lodge your application with the Specialist Temporary Entry Centre by;

posting the application (with the correct prepaid postage) to:

Department of Home Affairs
Specialist Temporary Entry Centre
GPO Box 794
Hobart Tas 7001
Australia

or having the application delivered by courier service to:

Department of Home Affairs
Specialist Temporary Entry Centre
14th Floor, 188 Collins Street
Hobart Tas 7001
Australia

Any application lodged in any other office or in any other way will not be a valid application and will not be processed.

More information about Retirement visas and lodgment addresses is available from the Department's website

<https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/repealed-visas/investor-retirement-visa-subclass-405>

Step 4

Once your application has been assessed, the Department will ask you, and your partner (if applicable), to complete any relevant health and character checks.

Step 5

Once your health and character checks have been finalised, the Department will advise you in writing to lodge the designated investment with the treasury corporation in the state or territory that has sponsored you. The letter of advice will also include a form 1031 Declaration: Business Skills – Investor and State/Territory Sponsored Investor; Other – Investor Retirement (Designated Investment), which will have been partially completed by the Department. You should complete Part B of this form and send it and your completed investment application to the treasury corporation in the state or territory that has sponsored you. Individual state and territory treasury corporations will provide advice on procedures to transfer your funds to the designated investment. Those funds must be in Australian dollars, and must be deposited in your name or your name and the name of your partner.

Once the designated investment has been made, funds cannot be withdrawn before the 4-year term has expired unless approved under exceptional circumstances by the Minister for Home Affairs.

On receiving your funds, the stock issuing authority will send you a letter or certificate to acknowledge receipt. They will also complete Part C of form 1031 Declaration: Business Skills – Investor and State/Territory Sponsored Investor; Other – Investor Retirement (Designated Investment) and return the form directly to the Retirement Visas Processing Unit.

What are the contact details for the state/territory government agencies?

Contact details for state/territory government agencies that can help you with information about sponsorship and contact details for state/territory treasury corporations are available from <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/repealed-visas/investor-retirement-visa-subclass-405>

How long may I stay in Australia?

If your application is approved, you will be granted a visa that will allow you to travel in and out of Australia for 4 years. Before your visa expires you may apply for a further visa, however, you must again satisfy the criteria for a visa grant.

Note: If at any time the state/territory sponsor withdraws their sponsorship, or the visa holder withdraws the designated investment, the visa may be subject to cancellation.

What is a regional/low growth area of Australia?

Certain areas of Australia have been defined by the Australian Government as being regional or low growth areas. The financial thresholds of the Investor Retirement (subclass 405) visa are lower for applicants who intend to live in these areas. Information about which areas are considered regional or low growth is available from the Department's website <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/repealed-visas/investor-retirement-visa-subclass-405>

If you change your passport after you have been granted the visa you must notify the nearest Australian mission or office of the Department.

If you do not provide us with the details of any new or additional passport you use to travel to Australia, you may experience significant delays at the airport and may be denied permission to board your plane.

Monitoring

To ensure the integrity of temporary residence visas, the Department has a thorough monitoring process to assist in ensuring compliance with all programme requirements and all relevant Australian laws.

What is immigration assistance?

A person gives immigration assistance if he or she uses, or purports to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist a person with matters related under the Migration Act 1958.

The most common times assistance is provided is during visa application processes, visa cancellation processes or sponsorship processes (including monitoring or sanctions).

Note: Immigration assistance does not include simply filling in an application form, translating or interpreting or passing on information about an application without comment or explanation.

Registered migration agents

A registered migration agent is a person who is registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (OMARA) to provide immigration assistance.

If operating in Australia, migration agents must be registered with the OMARA.

Information on registered migration agents, including how to find one, is available on the OMARA website www.mara.gov.au

Legal practitioners

A legal practitioner is a lawyer who holds an Australian legal practising certificate (whether restricted or unrestricted) granted under a law of an Australian state or territory.

Legal practitioners can provide immigration assistance in connection with legal practice.

Information on legal practitioners, including how to find one, is available on the Law Council of Australia website.

Information on legal practitioners can also be sought from the relevant state or territory legal professional bodies.

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent or legal practitioner in order to provide immigration assistance:

- a close family member (spouse, child, adopted child, parent, brother or sister of a visa applicant);
- a sponsor or nominator for a visa applicant;
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

An exempt person must not charge a fee for their assistance. In Australia, if they do charge a fee they are committing an offence and penalties of up to 10 years jail can apply.

Appointing a registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person

To appoint a registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person you should complete Part I – Options for receiving written communications.

Your registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person should complete form 956 Appointment of a registered migration agent, legal practitioner or exempt person.

Form 956 is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you.

The Department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you should complete:

- Part I – Options for receiving written communications; and
- form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Migration agents/legal practitioners/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Consent to communicate electronically

The Department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the Department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the Department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the Department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the Department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the Department prefers to communicate electronically because this results in faster processing.
