

Application for a subsequent Temporary Protection visa or Safe Haven Enterprise visa

Form

The Department of Home Affairs (the Department) preferred lodgement method for visas is online through ImmiAccount. Creating an account is quick and easy – visit www.homeaffairs.gov.au/immiaccount/

There are a number of benefits to lodging online through ImmiAccount: you can check the status of your application, continue a saved application, attach documents to an application, update personal details, and access a copy of your online application at any time.

The Department acknowledges that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are the traditional custodians of the Australian land.

Life in Australia – Australian values

The Australian Government encourages people to gain an understanding of Australia, its people and their way of life, before applying for a visa to live in Australia.

This includes understanding that the English language, as the national language, is an important unifying element of Australian society. Australian society is also united through the following shared values:

- respect for the freedom and dignity of the individual;
- freedom of religion (including the freedom not to follow a particular religion), freedom of speech, and freedom of association;
- commitment to the rule of law, which means that all people are subject to the law and should obey it;
- parliamentary democracy whereby our laws are determined by parliaments elected by the people, those laws being paramount and overriding any other inconsistent religious or secular 'laws';
- equality of opportunity for all people, regardless of their gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, race, or national or ethnic origin;
- a 'fair go' for all that embraces:
 - mutual respect;
 - tolerance;
 - compassion for those in need; and
 - equality of opportunity for all.

The Life in Australia booklet provides more information on the values that Australians share and their way of life. This booklet is available in a wide range of languages and can be obtained from www.homeaffairs.gov.au

You are encouraged to read the Life in Australia booklet before completing this application form. If you have difficulty, or are unable to read the booklet, you may have the content of it explained to you, for example, by a friend or relative. This form contains a statement, that you must sign, that confirms you understand and will undertake to conduct yourself in accordance with the values of Australian society (as explained in the booklet) and will obey the laws of Australia.

This statement must also be signed by each person aged 18 years or over, who is included in this form.

Information about your subsequent application

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete your application. Once you have completed your application we strongly advise that you keep a copy for your records.

Complete this application form if you:

- are in Australia;
- hold or have held a Temporary Protection (Class XD) visa (TPV) or a Safe Haven Enterprise (Class XE) visa (SHEV);
- are applying for a subsequent TPV or SHEV; and
- could not lodge your TPV or SHEV application online.

You must apply for another TPV or SHEV before your current visa ceases. If you are an Unauthorised Maritime Arrival (UMA) and your visa ceases before your subsequent application is received by the Department, your application will be considered invalid.

Form 1505 is for current and former TPV and SHEV holders applying for a subsequent TPV or SHEV who cannot lodge an online application.

This short form allows you to record changes in your personal circumstances since you were granted your TPV or SHEV. This form does not require you to provide claims for protection if you or someone else in your family unit have already provided them to the Department as part of your previous application. You only need to provide new details if your previous reasons for claiming protection have changed. If further information is required, the Department will contact you after you lodge your application.

A subsequent TPV or SHEV application is a new visa application that needs a new assessment, even if the Department streamlines this assessment in some cases.

It is very important that you provide a complete application including all new or additional information relevant to your personal circumstances and to your protection claims.

Even if there have been no changes to your personal details and protection claims since you were last granted a TPV or SHEV, the Department will still have to assess if you engage Australia's protection obligations. This includes checking the current situation in your home country.

If you were granted your TPV or SHEV as a member of the same family unit of someone who was claiming protection and you are no longer a member of that person's family unit, you can apply separately. You can provide your own claims for protection and attach them to this form. If further information is required, the Department will contact you after you lodge your application.

You may be granted a subsequent TPV or SHEV if you still engage Australia's protection obligations and you, and any members of your family unit included in the application, meet all other requirements for the grant of a protection visa under the Migration Act 1958 and the Migration Regulations 1994.

Further information on the process for a subsequent TPV and SHEV application is available on the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/temporaryprotection

Information on SHEV arrangements and regional Australia is available on the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/shevpathways

Eligibility to apply for a subsequent TPV or SHEV

Depending on your circumstances you may be eligible for a subsequent TPV or SHEV.

You will be considered for a TPV if, at the time of lodging your subsequent application, you:

- hold, or have ever held, either a TPV or a SHEV.

You will be considered for a SHEV if, at the time of lodging your subsequent SHEV application, you:

- hold, or have ever held either a TPV or a SHEV; and
- sign the Declaration of intention to work and/or study in regional Australia on page 5 of this form.

Application bars

If you:

- have previously been refused a protection visa since your last arrival to Australia; or
- have had a protection visa cancelled since your last arrival to Australia; or
- are a national of 2 or more countries; or
- are an Unauthorised Maritime Arrival (UMA) and your TPV or SHEV has already ceased;

you will be prevented from making a valid TPV or SHEV application (unless you have been notified that the Minister has lifted any application bar). The Department will advise you if any application bar affects you.

To make a valid TPV or SHEV application

The Department's preferred lodgment method is online. You can lodge this application online through your ImmiAccount at www.homeaffairs.gov.au/trav/visa/immi

To make a valid TPV or SHEV application you must:

- pay the visa application charge (See 'Method of payment' below);
- be in Australia;
- provide your residential address;
- provide personal identifiers if required (eg. digital photograph and fingerprints);
- not be prevented from lodging an application because of any application bars; and
- complete this form.

Method of payment

Make your payment electronically through the 'My Payments' section of ImmiAccount. Sign into, or create, your ImmiAccount and select My Payments>Manage Payments>Pre-Pay Paper Service, at www.homeaffairs.gov.au/immiaccount

How to lodge your application

You can send your completed application form and supporting evidence to:

Protection Visas
Department of Home Affairs
GPO Box 9984
Sydney NSW 2001

Further information on how to lodge your application is available on the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/temporaryprotection

Your immigration status

You should make a valid subsequent TPV or SHEV application before your current TPV or SHEV ceases. If you lodge a valid application for a protection visa while you still hold your TPV or SHEV, your visa will remain in effect until your subsequent application is decided.

If your current TPV or SHEV ceases, and you have not made a valid application for another TPV or SHEV, you will become unlawful in Australia.

If you are unlawful when you lodge this application, you will need to lodge a separate application for a Bridging visa E to remain lawful while your application is being processed.

Form 1008 Application for a Bridging visa E – subclass 050 is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Members of the family unit

A member of the family unit of someone making claims for protection can include a partner, dependent children and certain other dependants. More information on who is a member of the family unit is available on the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/protectionvisas

Members of the family unit may apply together on the same form and must all be in Australia at the time of application.

Changes to your family composition

If your family composition has changed since the grant of your TPV or SHEV, you should provide certified copies of any documents/evidence to support the relationship between each person in the application. This includes birth certificates, notarial certificates, marriage certificates, financial documents and undertakings for de facto relationships, financial documents to evidence that dependants over the age of 18 are dependent on you and any other evidence to support relationships between each applicant.

If a child is born to a visa holder after visa grant the child will be taken to have the same visa status as that of their parent(s).

If a child is born to an applicant after an application is lodged and before a primary decision is made on that application, the child will be taken to be included in that application. You should include any child born after the grant of your current TPV or SHEV in this application.

You should promptly notify the Department of the birth of your child and provide a certified copy of their birth certificate.

Who can certify my documents?

For a full list of people who can certify documents please see the Statutory Declarations Regulations 1993, available from the Attorney-General's website www.ag.gov.au

Help with your application

Information to assist you with your application is available on the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/protectionvisas

What is immigration assistance?

A person gives immigration assistance if he or she uses, or purports to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist a person with matters related under the Migration Act 1958.

The most common times assistance is provided is during visa application processes, visa cancellation processes or sponsorship processes (including monitoring or sanctions).

Note: Immigration assistance does not include simply filling in an application form, translating or interpreting or passing on information about an application without comment or explanation.

Registered migration agents

A registered migration agent is a person who is registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (OMARA) to provide immigration assistance.

If operating in Australia, migration agents must be registered with the OMARA.

Information on registered migration agents, including how to find one, is available on the OMARA website www.mara.gov.au

Legal practitioners

A legal practitioner is a lawyer who holds an Australian legal practising certificate (whether restricted or unrestricted) granted under a law of an Australian state or territory.

Legal practitioners can provide immigration assistance in connection with legal practice.

Information on legal practitioners, including how to find one, is available on the Law Council of Australia website.

Information on legal practitioners can also be sought from the relevant state or territory legal professional bodies.

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent or legal practitioner in order to provide immigration assistance:

- a close family member (spouse, child, adopted child, parent, brother or sister of a visa applicant);
- a sponsor or nominator for a visa applicant;
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

An exempt person must not charge a fee for their assistance. In Australia, if they do charge a fee they are committing an offence and penalties of up to 10 years jail can apply.

Appointing a registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person

To appoint a registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person you should complete Question 14 Options for receiving written communications.

Your registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person should complete form 956 Appointment of a registered migration agent, legal practitioner or exempt person.

Form 956 is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Warning: Some visa applicants have been victims of scams, paying large sums of money to fraudulent immigration advisors who promise guaranteed visas.

No one can guarantee that you will receive a protection visa, or the timeframe in which your application will be processed.

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you.

The Department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you should complete:

- Question 14 Options for receiving written communications; and
- form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Migration agents/legal practitioners/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Consent to communicate electronically

The Department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the Department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the Department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you agree to the Department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the Department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Accessing your personal information

If you are seeking access to your personal records in order to prepare your subsequent application, visit the Department's website at www.homeaffairs.gov.au/access-and-accountability/freedom-of-information/access-to-information/how-to-make-a-request

Click on the link 'Access to information' and select 'Accessing my records for a Temporary Protection Visa (TPV) or a Safe Haven Enterprise Visa (SHEV)'.

The Department will process your request and release to you a set of records created after the lodgement of your last TPV or SHEV application. These records will be released to you under the Privacy Act 1988.

In preparing for your subsequent TPV or SHEV application you are encouraged to submit your request to access your personal records 6–8 weeks prior to your lodgement date.

Note: Information you have submitted online can be accessed via your ImmiAccount.

Important information about privacy

The Privacy Act 1988 contains 13 Australian Privacy Principles which regulate the way that the Department collects and handles personal information. Information about how the Department collects, uses and discloses personal information for its key functions can be found in form 1442i Privacy notice. More information about the Department's general information handling practices (including form 1442i) can be found in the Department's Privacy policy at <https://www.homeaffairs.gov.au/access-and-accountability/our-commitments/privacy>

For SHEV applicants: If you are granted a SHEV and later make an application for a prescribed visa, the Department may disclose your personal information to Services Australia, the Department of Social Services, the Department of Education, Skills and Employment, and other government agencies and third parties where required, in order to determine whether you meet the requirements to make a valid application for a further prescribed visa.
