

The Department of Home Affairs (the Department) acknowledges that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are the traditional custodians of the Australian land.

Life in Australia – Australian values

The Australian Government encourages people to gain an understanding of Australia, its people and their way of life, before applying for a visa to live in Australia.

This includes understanding that the English language, as the national language, is an important unifying element of Australian society. Australian society is also united through the following shared values:

- respect for the freedom and dignity of the individual;
- freedom of religion (including the freedom not to follow a particular religion), freedom of speech, and freedom of association;
- commitment to the rule of law, which means that all people are subject to the law and should obey it;
- parliamentary democracy whereby our laws are determined by parliaments elected by the people, those laws being paramount and overriding any other inconsistent religious or secular 'laws';
- equality of opportunity for all people, regardless of their gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, race, or national or ethnic origin;
- a 'fair go' for all that embraces:
 - mutual respect;
 - tolerance;
 - compassion for those in need; and
 - equality of opportunity for all.

The Life in Australia booklet provides more information on the values that Australians share and their way of life. This booklet is available in a wide range of languages and can be obtained from www.homeaffairs.gov.au

You are encouraged to read the Life in Australia booklet before completing this application form. If you have difficulty, or are unable to read the booklet, you may have the content of it explained to you, for example, by a friend or relative. This form contains a declaration, that you must sign, that confirms you understand and will undertake to conduct yourself in accordance with the values of Australian society (as explained in the booklet) and will obey the laws of Australia.

This declaration must also be signed by each person aged 18 years or over, who is included in this form.

Australian working conditions

Overseas workers – know your workplace rights

Pay rates and workplace conditions are set by Australian law. All people working in Australia, including those from overseas, have rights and protections at work. These cannot be taken away by contracts or agreements.

If you have questions about your pay and conditions while in Australia, you can contact the Fair Work Ombudsman for free help.

Visit www.fairwork.gov.au for information for visa holders and international students. This includes information in numerous languages. There is also a range of helpful videos, in many languages, about working in Australia at www.youtube.com/fairworkgovau

You can also contact the Fair Work Ombudsman by phone within Australia on 13 13 94 (Translating and Interpreting Service 13 14 50).

The Fair Work Information Statement which is available in numerous languages also provides important information, www.fairwork.gov.au/employee-entitlements/national-employment-standards/fair-work-information-statement

About this form

Note: Any reference in this form to 'country' refers to 'foreign country' which is defined in paragraph 22(1)(f) of the Acts Interpretation Act 1901 as any country (whether or not an independent sovereign state) outside Australia and the external territories.

Who should use this application?

Only applicants from the People's Republic of China or those who are invited to apply for this visa by the Department are allowed to use this form.

Each applicant must apply individually on a separate form and cannot include family members in their application.

Visa overview

The Work and Holiday visa program encourages people to people links between partner countries by allowing young people to have an extended holiday during which they may engage in short-term work and study.

A Work and Holiday visa allows the visa holder to:

- enter Australia within 12 months of the date of visa grant;
- stay in Australia for up to 12 months;
- leave and re-enter Australia any number of times while the visa is valid;
- work in Australia for up to 6 months with each employer;
- study for up to 4 months; and
- carry out specified work to become eligible to apply for a second or third Work and Holiday visa.

Note: Australia applies an annual limit to the number of visas issued to first Work and Holiday visa applicants from all partner countries, except the USA. More information is available from <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/what-we-do/whm-program/status-of-country-caps>

If the limit has been reached, applicants will be notified and the processing of their application will not proceed.

Australia does not apply an annual limit to the number of visas issued to second or third Work and Holiday visas from any partner country.

Eligibility requirements

Eligibility requirements for the Work and Holiday visa for first, second and third visas can be found on the Department's website <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/work-holiday-462>

Health insurance

We recommend that you have health insurance to cover your stay in Australia. This can be obtained in your home country or in Australia. More information is available from <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/help-support/meeting-our-requirements/health/adequate-health-insurance>

Specified work

If you apply for a second or third Work and Holiday visa, you will need to provide evidence that you have worked for a minimum of 3 months (second visa application) or 6 months (third visa application) doing specified work in northern or regional Australia. For further information on eligible regions, industries and types of work and what evidence is required, see <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/what-we-do/whm-program/overview>

Where you need to be when applying for a visa

You must be outside Australia when applying for your first visa and when a decision is made on your application.

If you apply in Australia for a second or third visa, you should lodge your application before your current visa ceases, and must be in Australia for the visa to be granted.

If you apply outside Australia, you must be outside Australia for the visa to be granted.

How much does the visa cost?

Refer to Part G – Payment details of this form to calculate the correct charge.

Refer to <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/visa-pricing-estimator> for a complete and current list of applicable fees and charges.

Fees and charges may be subject to change at any time and this may increase the cost of a visa application.

Generally, Visa Application Charges are reviewed on 1 July each year, and the exchange rates used to calculate the amount payable in a foreign country are updated on 1 January and 1 July each year.

If you do not pay the full Visa Application Charge amount, your visa application will not be valid.

Charges are generally not refundable, even if the application is withdrawn or refused.

Method of payment

Make your payment electronically through the 'My Payments' section of ImmiAccount. Sign into, or create, your ImmiAccount and select My Payments>Manage Payments>Pre-Pay Paper Service, at www.homeaffairs.gov.au/immiaccount

If you are outside Australia and cannot pay online in ImmiAccount check the Department's website for alternative payment methods for your location www.homeaffairs.gov.au/locations

Integrity of application

The Department is committed to maintaining the integrity of the visa and citizenship programs. In relation to this application, if you or a member of your family unit:

- provide, or have provided in a previous application, fraudulent documents or false or misleading information (knowingly or not); and/or
- fail to satisfy, or have failed to satisfy in a previous application, the Minister of your or their identity;

this visa application may be refused and you, and any members of your family unit, may become unable to be granted a visa for specified periods of time, as set out in migration legislation.

If documents are found to be fraudulent or information to be incorrect after the grant of a visa, the visa may subsequently be cancelled.

How to apply

Step 1

Complete this application.

Please open this form using Adobe Acrobat Reader. Either type (in English) in the fields provided or print this form and complete it (in English) using a pen and BLOCK LETTERS.

You must provide the address where you intend to live while your application is being processed. Failure to give a residential address in your application will result in your application being invalid. A post office box address will not be accepted as your residential address.

You should provide all documents as outlined on the Department's website <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/work-holiday-462> with your application.

Step 2

Refer to Part G – Payment details of this form to calculate the correct charge. Ensure that evidence of payment is included with this application.

Step 3

First Work and Holiday visa applicants for the People's Republic of China who are not required to apply online should refer to the information on the Department's website <https://immi.homeaffairs.gov.au/visas/getting-a-visa/visa-listing/work-holiday-462>

First, second or third Work and Holiday visa applicants who have been invited by the Department to lodge manually should follow the instructions provided.

Some applicants need to provide their biometrics (fingerprints scan and facial photograph) at a Visa Application Centre when lodging an application. More information is available from www.homeaffairs.gov.au

What happens next?

Your application will be assessed. You will be advised in writing whether your application has been approved or refused. If your application is refused, you will be given reasons for the decision.

You should not make any irreversible travel arrangements until you receive written advice of the Department's decision on your application.

Activating your Work and Holiday visa

If you applied for your Work and Holiday visa outside of Australia, your 12 month stay period will start when you enter Australia. Your 12 month stay period will start if you pass through immigration clearance in Australia (the counter where you present your passenger card and passport), even if you are in transit or hold an Electronic Travel Authority or Maritime Crew visa.

If you are intending to transit or travel to Australia, and you do not want to start your Work and Holiday visa, you should delay applying for this visa until you wish to commence your working holiday.

Important – change of personal/passport details

If you wish to change any details after you lodge your application, including your passport details, or if you wish to withdraw the application, please take one of the following steps:

- email working.holiday@homeaffairs.gov.au
- change your information via your ImmiAccount (online lodgement only)
- submit form 929 Change of address and/or passport details.

Your Work and Holiday visa application is linked to the passport number provided in your application. If you are granted a visa, but do not provide the Department with the details of any new passport you use to travel to Australia, you will experience significant delays at the airport and could be denied permission to board your plane.

What is immigration assistance?

A person gives immigration assistance if he or she uses, or purports to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist a person with matters related under the Migration Act 1958.

The most common times assistance is provided is during visa application processes, visa cancellation processes or sponsorship processes (including monitoring or sanctions).

Note: Immigration assistance does not include simply filling in an application form, translating or interpreting or passing on information about an application without comment or explanation.

Registered migration agents

A registered migration agent is a person who is registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (OMARA) to provide immigration assistance.

If operating in Australia, migration agents must be registered with the OMARA.

Information on registered migration agents, including how to find one, is available on the OMARA website www.mara.gov.au

Legal practitioners

A legal practitioner is a lawyer who holds an Australian legal practising certificate (whether restricted or unrestricted) granted under a law of an Australian state or territory.

Legal practitioners can provide immigration assistance in connection with legal practice.

Information on legal practitioners, including how to find one, is available on the Law Council of Australia website.

Information on legal practitioners can also be sought from the relevant state or territory legal professional bodies.

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent or legal practitioner in order to provide immigration assistance:

- a close family member (spouse, child, adopted child, parent, brother or sister of a visa applicant);
- a sponsor or nominator for a visa applicant;
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

An exempt person must not charge a fee for their assistance. In Australia, if they do charge a fee they are committing an offence and penalties of up to 10 years jail can apply.

Appointing a registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person

To appoint a registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person you should complete Part F – Options for receiving written communications.

Your registered migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person should complete form 956 Appointment of a registered migration agent, legal practitioner or exempt person.

Form 956 is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/legal practitioner/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you.

The Department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

To appoint an authorised recipient you should complete:

- Part F – Options for receiving written communications; and
- form 956A Appointment or withdrawal of an authorised recipient.

Note: Migration agents/legal practitioners/exempt persons do not need to complete form 956A.

Form 956A is available from the Department's website www.homeaffairs.gov.au/allforms/

Consent to communicate electronically

The Department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the Department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the Department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the Department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the Department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956 or 956A to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the Department prefers to communicate electronically because this results in faster processing.

Important information about privacy

The Privacy Act 1988 contains 13 Australian Privacy Principles which regulate the way that the Department collects and handles personal information. Information about how the Department collects, uses and discloses personal information for its key functions can be found in form 1442i Privacy notice. More information about the Department's general information handling practices (including form 1442i) can be found in the Department's Privacy policy at <https://www.homeaffairs.gov.au/access-and-accountability/our-commitments/privacy>

Australian values statement

I confirm that I have read, or had explained to me, information provided by the Australian Government on Australian society and values.

I understand that Australian society values:

- respect for the freedom and dignity of the individual;
- freedom of religion (including the freedom not to follow a particular religion), freedom of speech, and freedom of association;
- commitment to the rule of law, which means that all people are subject to the law and should obey it;
- parliamentary democracy whereby our laws are determined by parliaments elected by the people, those laws being paramount and overriding any other inconsistent religious or secular 'laws';
- equality of opportunity for all people, regardless of their gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, race, or national or ethnic origin;
- a 'fair go' for all that embraces:
 - mutual respect;
 - tolerance;
 - compassion for those in need;
 - equality of opportunity for all;
- the English language as the national language, and as an important unifying element of Australian society.

I undertake to conduct myself in accordance with these values of Australian society during my stay in Australia and to obey the laws of Australia.
